MEMOIRS

Rev. George W. Matthews

George W. Matthews was born in Accomac county, Virginia, September 19, 1826. He grew up in that section, the very garden of Methodism, enjoying the training of Methodist parentage as well as the wholesome influence of a Methodist atmosphere. In his sixteenth year he became a member of the Methodist church and in 1856 was granted a license to preach.

He was exceedingly active as a local preacher and was frequently employed to supply vacant charges. During the troublous times of the war, while the Southern Methodist preachers were forbidden by the military authorities to serve their charges, the churches throughout the country were largely dependent on Brother Matthews for the gospel. In November, 1870, he was admitted on trial in the Virginia Conference. Preachers were being sought for Arkansas, and the bishop transferred Matthews to the Little Rock Conference. With his family he made the long, difficult and expensive journey to his new field to make his home and exercise his ministry among a strange people. He was appointed to Warren circuit, and returned to the same in 1871. He took rank at once as a fine preacher, faithful pastor and successful worker. In 1872 he was appointed to Mineral Springs where he was continued four years. In 1876 and 1877 he was stationed on Center Point Circuit, and in 1878 at Magnolia. In 1879 he was appointed Presiding Elder of Camden District which he traveled two years. In 1881 he was sent to Tulip Circuit, traveling it two years; in 1883 to Princeton Circuit, and in 1884 to New Edinburgh Circuit, which he traveled four years. In 1888 and 1889 his appointment was Lono Circuit, in 1890 and 1891 Pastoria Circuit, in 1892 Liberty, in 1893 and 1894 De Anne Circuit, in 1895 Clark Circuit and in 1896 Hot Springs Circuit. This was his last appointment. In 1897 he was granted a superannuated relation. He returned immediately to the home of his childhood in Virginia.

From that time he suffered much and was able to preach but little. Within one mile of his birthplace, December 13, 1901, he peacefully breathed his last. Though suffering much, his faith was strong, his hope ecstatic, his spirit full of joy.

In Virginia his wife in lonely widowhood survives, and there are two sons in Tulip, Arkansas. His holy life, his joyous laughter, his fervent prayers, his luminous and earnest preaching will not soon be forgotten.

Rev. Robert H. Poynter

Robert Harrison Poynter was born in Greenup county, Ky., October 23, 1844. He came to Arkansas and settled in Monroe county in 1852. He professed religion in early life and united himself with the Cumberland Presbyterian church, afterwards with the M. E. Church, South. As I have had an opportunity of knowing him better than any member of this body, as I was associated with him for a time amid the trials and hardships of war, I cheerfully bear testimony to his bravery, courage and power of endurance around the camp fire, on long and weary marches, and on the field of battle. As a Confederate soldier he was brave, loyal and true.

He was licensed to preach in 1878 by the Quarterly Conference of DeWitt Circuit. From this time he became an active itinerant, doing supply work for some years, and then was admitted into the traveling connection. His appointments were hard fields, along the Arkansas and Mississippi rivers; yet he received them with a joyful spirit, and with an unflinching courage and unfaltering zeal he entered upon the work in the name of Christ. His faith in Christ never faltered, and his love for souls never waned. He shrank not from the hardships nor stopped to parley with discouragements. His was a sanguine nature. He delivered his message with zeal and looked for results. There was a pathos in his persuasive tongue that moved his hearers as few men could do. When others failed at camp meetings to draw penitents to the altar, he, with his earnest exhortation and tears, drew them by the score. He was a sweet-spirited, loyal son of the church, never complaining of hard appointments or want of appreciation of his abilities. His zeal may have at times caused him to be imprudent, but his heart was right and his motives pure.

By nature he was gentle and affectionate and yet when an issue was raised he boldly espoused the right as he saw it, and was as courageous as a lion. He indulged not in a spirit of unkind criticism of his brethren nor cherished an evil feeling toward them. There was no sourness nor sullenness in his makeup. He loved his brethren and loved his work.

His trials were greater than most men are called upon to bear. His first wife was burned to death while he was away at conference, yet this man of God bore it uncomplainingly. There is no wonder that when this godly man came to the end of his earthly career he should have had such triumphant death. He died in sight of the angels. This occurred February 6, 1902, at White Sulphur Springs, Jefferson county, Arkansas.

Robert Poynter is gone from our midst but he is embalmed in our memories and enshrined in our affections. We know where to find him.

THOMAS H. WARE.

Rev. Andrew Hunter, D. D.

Andrew Hunter was born in Ballymony, County Antrim, Ireland, December 26, 1813. During his childhood the family came to America and settled in Pennsylvania. His mother had been awakened in Ireland under the preaching of Gideon Ousely, a Wesleyan preacher, and became a member of the Presbyterian church. When Andrew was about eight years old his father died after a lingering illness during which time the family was frequently visited by a Methodist preacher who prayed with them and presented the gospel to the afflicted man, who was converted and died happy. This resulted in the union of the whole family with the Methodist church.

Andrew was converted January 31, 1833. In the fall of 1835, having gone west, he was teaching in Manchester, Missouri. While so employed, his mind being much exercised as to whether he was called to preach, he saw in a church paper a letter from Rev. Peter McGowan, superintendent of the South Indian Missionary District, calling urgently for teachers for Indian schools. He had been earnestly praying God to guide him into his life work, and felt sure he could do good in teaching whether he could preach or not, and accordingly traveled across the sparsely settled country toward Fort Gibson, three hundred miles away. He found McGowan January 1, 1836, and was assigned to a school at Hichitytown near the present site of Muscogee. Here he preached his first sermon on the conversion of Cornelius.

The quarterly conference met soon. P. M. McGowan presiding, and Andrew Hunter was licensed to preach. In November of the same year, 1836, the Arkansas annual conference was organized at Batesville. Andrew Hunter was received on trial and appointed to missionary school No. 5 at Bayou Baynard. Thus began a ministry of sixty-six years. He never located nor transferred. In 1837 he was appointed to Litchfield Mission. This was in the Batesville District, and evidently in the northern part of the state. In 1838 his work was Benton Circuit. This included all the country from Little Rock to Arkadelphia, Benton and Collegeville. In 1839 his work was Washington Circuit. This included Fayetteville and the adjacent country. In 1840 he was sent to Mound Prairie Circuit. This included the town of Washington, with Hempstead and adjacent counties. These were annual moves of many hundreds of miles across unbridged rivers and through almost trackless forests. The young preacher remained but one year in a place but left tracks that fifty years have not effaced. In 1841 he was stationed in Little Rock. In 1842 the Washington District was organized in the Southwestern part of the state and the young man, in the twenty-ninth year of his age, and the seventh year of his ministry, was made the presiding elder of the new district sixty years ago.

In 1843 he was reappointed to Washington District and elected to the general conference. In 1844-45 he was stationed in Little

JOURNAL OF THE LITTLE ROCK ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

Rock. We cannot ascertain his appointment for 1846-47-48. In 1849 and 1850 he was appointed to Batesville District and in 1851 and 1852 to Camden District. The appointments for the next two years are unknown. In 1855 he was appointed agent for the American Bible Society. This continued four years and in 1859 he was agent for the Book and Tract Depository.

In 1861-2-3 he was appointed to Arkadelphia District, in 1863-4 to Tulip Circuit and African Mission; 1865-6-7 to Little Rock District; 1868-9, agent for American Bible Society; 1870 Washington Circuit; in 1871 Pine Bluff District; 1872-73 Arkadelphia District; 1874 Second street, Little Rock; 1875-6-7-8, Little Rock District. This closed his work as presiding elder after twenty years of district labor. In 1879-80-81-82 he was appointed to Little Rock Circuit; 1883 to Camden Station; in 1884-85-86-87 to Liberty and Pleasant Grove. In 1888 he was superannuated on the Galloway Circuit, and in 1889 he was granted a superannuated relation, being seventy-six years of age. This relation he honored until his death. He fell asleep June 3, 1902, at the residence of his son in Little Rock.

He was a member of eleven or twelve general conferences. He was a member of the Ecumenical Conference in 1891, and was appointed for 1901 but declined on account of age and infirmity.

He took rank as a preacher in his Conference at an early date and soon came to be generally regarded as the best man in the pulpit in the state. Yet his compeers were great men. The eloquent Winfield, the incisive and masterly Ratcliffe, Cobb, Moore, Truslow and others would have been men of mark anywhere; but he excelled them all. His mellow, vibrant voice made his speech impressive. His hearers soon understood that there was nothing rash or inconsiderate in his words, nothing light or trifling, nothing for show or merely to attract attention to the speaker, that the message and not himself was his one concern and that he was intensely in earnest.

Then there was a remarkable weight of character about the man, his personal dignity, his unselfish and blameless life, his wisdom won the especial regard of all men. He did not obtrude his opinions, but his counsel was always sought and when he had spoken it was the end of controversy.

During the war when Little Rock and the greater part of the state had been occupied by Federal troops, President Lincoln inaugurated a new state government and appointed Isaac Murphy governor. When the war ended this new government was generally recognized throughout the state. All parties seemed to desire peace. In 1865 a legislature was elected and the best men in the state were sought for to represent the people. Andrew Hunter was elected to the senate by Saline and Dallas counties. When the legislature met he was chosen president of the senate. During the session he was elected to the United States senate. But congress decided to again reconstruct the state government. In 1868 the new government was inaugurated, a new legislature convened under the new constitution; new senators were elected and Hunter ignored. He had not sought the office or the honor. The office was taken from him but not the honor. The hearts of the people safely trusted in him, and he was abundantly satisfied with the honor and the work of his ministry. In 1872 a gubernatorial election was coming on. The Republicans nominated E. Baxter, a bolting Republican convention nominated Brooks. The Democratic convention, despairing of success, endorsed Brooks. The dissatisfied people, wearied and heart sick, determined to make Andrew Hunter governor. The Democratic Central Committee sent a man to find him, and after a long, weary search he found him at a quarterly meeting in Desha, and begged him to accept a nomination. He asked time to consider, and at the time designated for his reply the committee found him in the stand at campmeeting preaching to an entranced multitude, and when the service was over he had his answer ready and assured them that much as he loved the people he could not abandon his work to be governor of Arkansas.

But the people of the whole state honored him. He was chaplain of one or other house of the legislature a great many times—when ever he was willing, so during the years of his superannuate relation he could serve them and did so gladly.

In 1849, the bishop being absent, he was chosen—though a young man then—President of the Conference. He was again so honored in 1859, 1862, 1863 and in 1865, five times in all. No other man was so honored by his conference, except W. P. Ratcliffe in 1864. He received the degree of D. D. from some obscure and short-lived college, as he has told me, somewhere about 1870. It mattered not about the institution, he honored the degree, the degree conferred no honor upon him.

A few months before his death he wrote: "Standing, as I now do near the end of my earthly journey, looking back on the past, I can say the religion I profess to have obtained and the religion I have preached is all in all to me, and I expect to get to heaven when I die; not because I have been a preacher, but because Jesus Christ died on the cross for a sinner like me. I crave no monument for my grave. I trust I shall live the remainder of my life without a blot or stain on the reputation I have made, my monument being in the hearts of those I have tried to serve."

Noble words, as sincere as they are modest. But if the state of Arkansas ever places statues of her two greatest sons in the Capitol at Washington, the statue of Andrew Hunter will be there.

REPORTS

Sabbath Observance

Your committee on Sabbath Observance respectfully submit the following report: We are very much gratified to have had with us Dr. Edward Thomson, the General Manager of the Sunday League of America. The facts he so forcefully presented, should not only arrest but fix the attention of every thoughtful citizen of this great commonwealth. Observing men can but view with alarm the widespread and growing tendency to desecrate the day that God commanded us to keep holy. If we would preserve our free institutions, and transmit them intact to future generations, we must not permit the Christian Sabbath to become secularized, for underlying this question of obedience to the fourth commandment is the basic principle of obedience, that must and does undergird all solid character, whether of the individual or of the Nation. We must obey God's law as a Nation as well as individuals or suffer irretrievable loss. Government is by His permission. "For there is no power but of God. The powers that be are ordained of God."

→ We solemnly protest against the Sunday paper, the Sunday excursion train and the Sunday saloon, as pernicious in their influence and among the most active agencies in undermining the Sabbath. We deprecate the practice of unveiling monuments on the holy Sabbath, especially in the country at the hours for preaching, as it is most generally done.

And we set the seal of our emphatic disapproval on the custom of holding public singing in our houses of worship on Sunday, where vast concourses of people gather for miles around, not to worship God, but for recreation and pass-time. We steadfastly believe that all secular business except in cases of necessity, should cease, and that we should forego all mere pleasure seeking on the Lord's Day, and that a solemn hush should fall upon the world, and all men should bow their heads in humble reverence in the presence of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. And instead of the hum of industry and the song of revelry, should be heard the song of praise and thanksgiving, and of adoration to the giver of every good and perfect gift.

We offer the following resolutions:

1. That we respectfully request the General Assembly at its next session to enact a law prohibiting the running of Sunday excursion trains.
2. That we request our pastors to preach on Sabbath observance in their several charges.
3. That we most heartily endorse The Sunday League of America and commend it and its work to our people.

Bible Cause

The Conference passed a resolution last year, that every preacher should take a collection and make a report for the "American Bible Society." We are sorry to note that all have not complied with this, even some of our most prominent charges have neglected this very important duty. We are sorry to note a decrease in the collection this year over last year of $40.76. This ought not to be, for the church has always felt the obligation to give the Holy Scriptures to the world. If true to our Lord we must as far as possible bear witness to His truth before all men. The welfare of the world, the progress and triumph of the church and the Kingdom of God is connected with the publication and dissemination of God's Word in all the tongues and languages of the earth. Every man needs the Bible. God intended that he should have it, and it is the imperative duty of the church to bear forth this ark of the covenant to the Nations. The chosen instrument of our church for the accomplishment of this work is the American Bible Society. The purpose of this great society is to give the pure word of God without note or comment to all the world. Then let it again be resolved by this conference, that every pastor in this Conference will take a public collection next year in all the congregations to which he ministers.

Church Extension

Your Board of Church Extension rejoices to report an excess over last year's total receipts of $201.70, the aggregate collections of the year being $1869.47.

The excess of this year over last represents the advance over the best of all the previous years of our Board's history. Added to this increased liberality, of our people, is the growing tendency toward the better housing of the church, both in the towns and rural districts. This is especially emphasized by the number of applications and the urgency with which requests were made to us for liberal donations. Nineteen applications for aid were considered, sixteen of which had grants made to them aggregating $920.00, leaving $21.40 in the hands of the Board to be used for incidental expenses. The $941.40 in our hands for disbursement was less than 25 per cent. of the amount we were asked for.

T. D. SCOTT, Pres.

W. R. HARRISON, Sec.

Temperance—Report No. 1

Believing that the organized Liquor Traffic is the greatest foe of this Nation, financially, socially, and religiously, we hereby renew our pledge to co-operate in every legitimate way with the federated forces of church and state through the American Anti-Saloon League in their organized effort to overthrow this our common enemy.

We rejoice to report that during the past year through the co-operative forces in this state we have achieved a most glorious victory, as the following facts taken from the annual report made to us by the Anti-Saloon League of this State will show:

"By vote we have forty-four counties "dry" and of the thirty-one counties remaining "wet" we have the major part of them "dry" by township vote and three mile petitions. Notably is this true in Jackson, Monroe, Prairie, Arkansas, Lee, Cross, Hot Springs and Pike counties; wherein the county seats and nearly all the principal towns are "dry," and many other of the "wet" towns are now engaged in a heroic struggle for freedom through our three mile petition law.

Another encouraging evidence of our progress is along the line of law enforcement. A tidal wave is rapidly setting in toward the ideal of law enthronement through the procurement of good men to rule this country in state as well as in church affairs. Already there are many counties and a multitude of towns that have secured law enthronement complete against the "blind tiger," through their local officers, backed by a determined public sentiment. The keynote of our work being law enthronement through local self-government for each community."

So viewing our work the State over we feel that we have had not only a great campaign victory but have secured a steady and permanent growth in favor of law enforcement and good citizenship in general. Therefore while believing that we have before us a long and difficult fight to down the saloons and enthrone law and order, yet also believing that organized rightousness is stronger than organized unrightousness we face the future with new courage and a determined purpose to help win the victory.

We therefore recommend:

1. That our people take the Search Light the official organ of the federated temperance forces in this state.
2. That the chair appoint two delegates and one alternate to represent this conference at the National convention of the American Anti-Saloon League which meets at Washington, D. C. December 9-11, 1902.
3. That the chair appoint one representative from this Conference to serve on the National Board of Directors of the American Anti-Saloon League.
4. That this Conference appoint a temperance board of three, one of whom shall be a corresponding secretary. The duty of said Board to be to keep prominently before our preachers and people the temperance cause.
5. That no temperance man or woman traveling among us shall use our pulpits who is not endorsed by said Board and responsible to them. Provided the State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League and his duly authorized representatives shall be authorized to represent the temperance cause among us but they shall work in harmony with the pastor.

Respectfully submitted.

Joint Board of Finance—Report No. 1

Your Joint Board of Finance beg leave to present the following as its report No. 1:

We have had under consideration a communication referred to us from the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, relative to the law enacted by the General Conference at its recent meeting in Dallas, Texas, providing for the raising of a fund of five million dollars for the more adequate support of our superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of our deceased preachers, and we unanimously recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved that we heartily endorse the action of the General Conference, knowing as we do that many of our Conference claimants are in want of the comforts of life, and we pledge our best efforts to the securing of this great endowment fund.

2. Resolved that we are grateful at the presence of the Rev. A. F. Watkins, D. D., the general agent of this fund and assure him of our cordial support in the important work committed to him.

3. Resolved that we hereby request our Presiding Elders to give prominence to the subject in their districts and Quarterly Conference and that the preachers present the cause and take a public collection in each congregation of their pastoral charges during the ensuing year. This collection to be taken if possible within sixty days after the adjournment of this Conference.

Report No. 2

The Joint Board beg leave to submit report No. 2:

We are rejoiced to inform the Conference that the amount collected for our superannuated preachers and the widows and children of our deceased preachers is in excess of any previous year's collections, the amount being $5,472. 05.

After a careful consideration of all the information before us of the circumstances and necessities of the claimants upon this fund we have made the following apportionments: (See pages 15-16.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

General

After careful inquiry into the educational interests and educational institutions of our church we are pleased to report a steady and healthy improvement. The attendance at nearly all our schools has increased. Our property, including grounds, buildings and equipment, is above the reported figure of former years, and the general outlook is promising indeed.

It is a fact that a great educational wave is passing over our Southland. Standards have been raised; state and denominational schools have added large sums to their working capital, and leaders in thought and finance have as never before thrown their influence into the educational side of the scales, affording increased and ever increasing opportunities for the education of the youth of the country. The work of our church, by comparison, does not appear as it would if the general conditions had remained as they were before this revival, and while we have reason to rejoice at what we are doing, yet we have reached a point at which it is imperative that we put our work on a more permanent basis, and supply it with such resources as to enable it to meet the obligations upon the church to give opportunities of Christian culture to the youth of our land, and to compete with the great and growing institutions of learning.

Little Rock Conference Training School

Since the last session of Conference, our Training School, at Fordyce, has undergone change of management, and it is gratifying to learn from the principal that the present session opened under favorable conditions without change of plan or purpose by reason of the incoming of the new administration. The school is thoroughly organized, largely attended, and the outlook for the future is bright. The faculty is composed of young men and women upon whose hearts lie the burden of educating the young of our church, and they should have the faithful co-operation of our people.

The Training School sustains the unique relation—so far as training schools are concerned—of being the child of the Little Rock conference, and as such should be the object of special interest and earnest prayer.

Galloway College

We are gratified to learn from the report submitted to us, that this institution is enjoying the most prosperous session of its existence. One hundred and seventy-five boarding pupils, and a large number of local pupils have been enrolled. The boarding department is taxed to its utmost capacity. Quite a number of applicants have been turned away for want of room.

The new curriculum of this school is now drawn up in strict accordance with the requirements of the General Board of Education of the M. E. church, South, and is now in successful operation.

The new teachers are giving eminent satisfaction and good, solid work is being done in all departments. We much regret that the twentieth century fund did not relive this college from debt. We earnestly appeal to the friends of Christian education throughout the state to remove this burden, so that the school may enter upon an enlarged career of usefulness and prosperity.

We most heartily commend the institution to all our people as one worthy of their confidence and most active support.

We nominate the following for trustees: T. D. Scott, in place of W. E. Thompson, transferred; James Thomas, in place of H. H. Watson, whose time has expired; L. B. Leigh, to take the place of W. C. Ratcliff, resigned; H. A. Butler to succeed himself.

Hendrix College

From the report of the president, we learn that this institution is moving steadily forward in its work of educating the sons of Arkansas Methodism. One hundred and thirty (130) students have been enrolled, and a number of others are expected to enter soon.

The work is in the hands of an exceptionally strong faculty and will be conducted according to the highest standard.

The new president has entered upon the discharge of his duties with vigor and conspicuous ability and we most heartily commend him and his most excellent faculty to the confidence of our people. The movement for the endowment of the college has brought much needed relief, but the revenues are still inadequate to meet the demands of this growing institution. We earnestly insist that this movement shall be carried forward until the endowment reach one hundred thousand dollars.

We nominate Dr. J. H. Riggin to succeed himself as a member of the board of trustees. We recommend that the Board of Trustees be requested to amend the charter of the college so as to increase the number of trustees to 21 instead of 18. The three additional members to be elected by the Alumni Association—one from each patronizing conference.

Academies

The Hendrix Academy of Mena is in more promising condition than at any previous time. Through the generosity of Major J. I. Porter and other citizens, of Stuttgart, a property valued at $10,000 has come into the hands of the church to be used as a Hendrix academy. Though the property was secured late in the year, a school of promise has been organized and is in successful operation.

Vanderbilt University

The reports coming from Vandervilt University indicate a prosperous condition and a bright outlook. The general attendance shows an encouraging increase over last year and the large number of students pursuing courses of study in the Biblical Department forecasts good things for our church. Such an institution represents faithfully the spiritual and doctrinal life of Methodism, and we commend it most heartily to the confidence and support of our people.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We recommend that the conference endorse the action of the General Conference instituting a correspondence school for the better culture and equipment of the ministry of our church and that the preachers of our conference, when necessary and practicable, avail themselves of the advantage afforded by the correspondence school.

We further recommend that this conference authorize the committees of examination to accept the certificates of the correspondence school in lieu of the usual examinations.

We urge all our pastors to procure and use the literature prepared by the General Board of Education for the dissemination of knowledge and the creation of sentiment in line with the declared educational policy of our church.

Board of Trustees

The sum conveyed into the hands of the Joint Board of Finance is, compared to the needs of the superannuates and the widows and orphans, insufficient to meet the needs of these beneficiaries. We appeal especially to the younger men of the Conference. We should show an appreciation of the work of the grand old superannuates by making possible the increasing the small stipend now paid them. The Lou A. Davis fund of $1,000 has been put out at interest as shown by report of our treasurer hereto attached and made a part of this report. We recommend the election of Judge B. G. Brown to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Judge W. C. Ratcliffe.

We attach to this report the constitution of the Board which we desire published.

JAMES THOMAS, Secretary.
Benton, Nov. 28, 1902.

To the Board of Trustees of Little Rock Conference:

The undersigned respectfully reports that he has collected $29.00 as follows: $6.00 on each of the notes of the following persons: T. M. Mehaffey, Dr. J. E. Godbey, James Thomas, and Dr. J. R. Harvey and $5.00 from Geo. Thornburg, which I have paid to the Joint Board of Finance and herewith attach receipt. The $1,000 received from Mayor Davis after last Conference was deposited in bank of W. B. Worthen & Co., on which we will get 5 per cent. which will be paid February 1st. Respectfully, T. M. MEHAFFEY.

Publishers' Interests

The report of the Book Agent for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1902, shows capital invested in Publishing house at Nashville and the branch house in Dallas to be $926,094.53. On this capital, the net sales for the year amounted to $421,283.20; an increase of $20,582.90 over the sales of the preceding year. This business gave a total gain in assets of $40,001.70; but a loss of $2,234.40 on the Methodist Review, and $6,966.98 on the Epworth Era, reduced the net gain in the assets to $30,799.69.

The periodical publications of the house were never more readable, and never more helpful to the interest of the church; and we regret to find that the Methodist Review and the Epworth Era are not self-sustaining, as they should be. We are glad to find that nearly all the preachers of our Conference are regular subscribers to the Advocate; and that the new preachers coming into the Conference are also taking the paper.

Arkansas Methodist

The committee has heard from subscribers various adverse criticisms of the Arkansas Methodist; and we have heard from the business manager and the editor their defense of the paper. The church would be surprised to know the meager salaries of the manager and the editor. They are putting their time, their energies, and their money into this paper for the church and they are getting smaller salaries than many of the pastors of the state. The Committee believes that the business manager and the editor are as nearly doing their part for the Methodist as is the church of this state. The management does not claim that the Methodist is a perfect paper; and the 80,000 Methodists of the state cannot claim to have done their full duty toward the church organ. We suggest that, if the preachers will write more and better matter for the paper, if they will get more subscribers for it, and if the subscribers will pay for the paper promptly, the management will see the possibilities of a better paper.

We recommend the appointment of J. E. Godbey as editor of the Arkansas Methodist, of J. R. Harvey as field editor, and of A. H. Godbey as assistant editor. We also recommend the election of T. D. Scott, T. H. Ware, and J. H. Hinemon as editorial committee for the Little Rock Conference.

1. Resolved, that we regard the Christian Advocate and the Methodist Review, as a part of the necessary equipment of every Methodist preacher.

2. That we consider the Advocate and Arkansas Methodist as indispensable to every earnest and intelligent member of our church in the state.

3. That it is with a sense of shame and humiliation that we note large accounts of laymen and preachers long since due the Arkansas Methodist and our own Publishing House; and we urge creditor and debtor to press the liquidation of these accounts.

Board of Missions

To the President and Members of the Little Rock Conference:

Your Board of Missions rejoice,

1. That throuought the whole church the cause of both Foreign and Domestic Missions is gaining.

2. That several Annual Conferences and a large number of Districts in the several Annual Conferences have paid their assessments in full.

We rejoice especially that one of our Districts (the Camden) has paid the assessments in full.

3. We are delighted to see improvements in our Missionary literature, as well as a Missionary Department in many of our Conference organs.

4. We have collected from our Mission fields $476 for Foreign Missions and $354 for Domestic Missions. This is a healthy growth over the collections of last year. Neary all of the brethren have had good revivals and a large ingathering into the church.

Resolved, 1. That information being the great need of our people, our pastors and official boards be urged to try to place in every home one or more of our Missionary publications.

3. That all our pastors organize the women into Foreign and Home Mission societies wherever it be possible.

R. M. M'KAY, Secretary.

Report on District Conference Journals

We, your Committee on District Conference Journals, beg leave to submit the following: All of the Journals except that of the Pine Bluff District, were examined by your Committee.

Little Rock District Journal: Nicely kept. Typewritten and admirable in every respect.

Camden District Journal: Nicely kept, but we suggest that head lines be used.

Prescott District Journal: This Journal is almost a model Journal. The head lines are omitted.

Arkadelphia District Journal: Penmanship legible, very well arranged, no marginal index, nor headlines.

Monticello District Journal: A model Journal.

Mena District Journal: Well kept.

We are informed by the secretary of the Pine Bluff District Conference that he had to leave the Conference before it closed, and that the minutes and Journal had not been turned over to him. There seems to be manifest carelessness on the part of some one. No means should such be the case. Respectfully submitted,

We opened the institution February 1, 1902, in a house given us by the directory of the Woman's Industrial Home. The first orphan received was Jessie Miller, brought to us from McCrory by Rev. F. E. Taylor, February 7, 1902. She is still in the Orphanage, sadly afflicted with rheumatism.

On February 7, 1902, Bishop Key appointed Rev. T. H. Ware agent to succeed Rev. J. R. Cason, who desired to be relieved.

The Woman's Industrial Home gave the Orphanage in fee simple their property, consisting of three lots in Little Rock on which is a good frame building. The property came to us as a gift without any conditions or limitations as to the disposition of it by our board. The receipts for the year were as follows:

Collections, cash by J. R. Cason, agent.....	$ 205 80
Collections, cash, by T. H. Ware, agent.....	826 75

Sundry gifts of merchandise, papering house, repairs, etc., to the value of $42.50 are not included in the above figures.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

To the President and members of the Little Rock Conference:

The Sunday School Board submits the following report: We are pleased to know of the manifest interest by our Sunday School Editor in the work that he is doing for greater success in the Sunday School work of our church, as well as all other workers in this department. There seems to be much cause for hopefulness in this work, throughout the church. We are in hearty sympathy with the Bible Teachers Study Circle and urge our pastors to give the matter their careful attention and organize for this work where practicable. The total circulation of our periodicals on April 1, 1902 was 1,156,600. The total number in schools in 1901 as per General Minutes, 987,805. Increase 32,182. The Children's Day Services was observed loyally in this Conference this year and also Rally Day for Missions. There was held at Little Rock, March 19-21 this year, a very interesting, and we think profitable Sunday School Institute, conducted by Dr. H. M. Hamill. We recommend the holding of at least one such Institute in the Conference the incoming year.

There is reported collected on Children's Day $216.07. Surplus of last year, $145.37.

We indorse the Home Department work and recommend that our pastors give special attention to this department of our Sabbath School work. We recommend that our preachers and their Sabbath School helpers give the graded catechism course in every family of children where it is practicable.

W. A. STEEL, President.
